UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
WESTERN DIVISION

BRIAN KEITH DENT,

Petitioner,

v.

MIKE KNOWLES, WARDEN,

Respondent.

Case No. CV 08-05255 JFW (AN)

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER
DISMISSING HABEAS PETITION AS TIME-BARRED

Before the Court is a petition for a writ of habeas corpus ("Petition") brought pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254 by Brian Keith Dent ("Petitioner"), a state prisoner proceeding pro se. For the reasons discussed below, the Petition is dismissed with prejudice because the Court finds it is time-barred.

I. BACKGROUND

The Petition raises five claims for relief, all of which are directed at Petitioner's 1998 conviction and related prison sentence of sixty years to life that he sustained following a guilty plea in the Los Angeles County Superior Court (No. TA048724) on May 13, 1998. (Pet. 2.)

The Petition, accompanying exhibits, and relevant state court records show Petitioner appealed his judgment of conviction to the California Court of Appeal (No. B123067); on February 24, 1999, the intermediate state appellate court affirmed the judgment of conviction. (Id. at 3.) On March 29, 1999, Petitioner filed a petition for review with the California Supreme Court (No. S077665) that was summarily denied on May 12, 1999. (Id.) Thereafter, Petitioner also sought one full round of collateral review of his underlying judgment of conviction. The state habeas petitions filed with the superior court and both state appellate courts were summarily denied. (Pet. 3-4, Attachments; Official records of California courts<sup>1/</sup>).

On July 26, 2008, Petitioner constructively filed the pending Petition.<sup>2/</sup> (Pet. 8.) Pursuant to the Court's duty to screen § 2254 petitions, the Magistrate Judge found the face of the Petition, accompanying exhibits, and relevant state court records plainly

<sup>1/</sup> The Court takes judicial notice of Petitioner's records in the state appellate courts, which are available on the Internet at <http://appellatecases.courtinfo.ca.gov>. See Smith v. Duncan, 297 F.3d 809, 815 (9th Cir. 2002) (federal courts may take judicial notice of relevant state court records in federal habeas proceedings).

<sup>2/</sup> Pursuant to the "mailbox rule," a pro se prisoner's habeas petition is deemed to be filed on the date the prisoner delivers the petition to prison authorities for mailing to the clerk. Houston v. Lack, 487 U.S. 266, 270-71, 108 S. Ct. 2379 (1988); Huizar v. Carey, 273 F.3d 1220, 1222 (9th Cir. 2001). The mailbox rule also applies to pro se state habeas petitions. Stillman v. Lamarque, 319 F.3d 1199, 1201 (9th Cir. 2003). The pending Petition was filed by the Clerk on August 11, 2008, however, for purpose of the timeliness analysis, the Court gives Petitioner the benefit of the doubt by assuming he constructively filed the Petition on July 26, 2008, the date he signed it. (Pet. 8.)

1 disclosed that this action was barred by the one-year statute of limitations of the Anti-2 Terrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 ("AEDPA"). 28 U.S.C.
3 §2244(d)(1)(A). Accordingly, on August 15, 2008, the Magistrate Judge issued an 4 order to show cause that notified Petitioner the action appeared to be time-barred 5 absent some other basis for tolling or an alternative start to AEDPA's one-year 6 limitation period under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(B)-(D). (See Aug. 15, 2008, Order to 7 Show Cause Re Dismissal of Habeas Petition As Time-barred ("OSC")). The OSC 8 discussed various bases for tolling and directed Petitioner to show cause why the 9 action was not time-barred by filing a written response no later than September 5, 10 2008. (OSC 2-10.) The OSC warned Petitioner that his failure to file a timely 11 response to the OSC would result in a waiver of his right to respond to the OSC, and 12 that his Petition would be dismissed with prejudice as time-barred without further 13 notice. (OSC 10:18-23.) On August 30, 2008, Petitioner constructively filed his 14 response to the OSC ("OSC Response"). The matter now stands submitted.

15 16 II. DISCUSSION

17 A. Standard of Review

18 Rule 4 of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases in the United States District 19 Courts, 28 U.S.C. foll. § 2254, states that "the judge to whom [the petition] is 20 assigned" is required to examine the petition promptly and "[i]f it plainly appears from 21 the face of the petition and any exhibits annexed to it that the petitioner is not entitled 22 to relief in the district court, the judge shall make an order for its summary dismissal 23 and cause the petitioner to be notified." Local Rule 72-3.2 of this Court also provides 24 "[t]he Magistrate Judge promptly shall examine a petition for writ of habeas corpus, 25 and if it plainly appears from the face of the petition and any exhibits annexed to it 26 that the petitioner is not entitled to relief, the Magistrate Judge may prepare a proposed 27 order for summary dismissal and submit it and a proposed judgment to the District 28 Judge." C.D. Cal. R. 72-3.2. Further, an untimely habeas petition may be dismissed

1 sua sponte, however, the district court must give the petitioner adequate notice and an 2 opportunity to respond before doing so. Day v. McDonough, 547 U.S. 198, 209-10, 3 126 S. Ct. 1675 (2006); Herbst v. Cook, 260 F.3d 1039, 1043 (9th Cir. 2001).

4 B. Statute of Limitations

5 The Petition is governed by AEDPA, which establishes a one-year statute of 6 limitations for state prisoners to file a habeas petition in federal court, because the 7 Petition was filed after April 24, 1996, AEDPA's enactment date. 28 U.S.C. § 8 2244(d)(1); See Lindh v. Murphy, 521 U.S. 320, 327-37, 117 S. Ct. 2059 (1997). In 9 most cases, the limitation period begins to run from "the date on which the judgment 10 became final by conclusion of direct review or the expiration of the time for seeking 11 such review." 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(A).

12 As discussed above, the face of the Petition, attached exhibits, and relevant state 13 court records establish Petitioner sustained his underlying convictions on April 29, 14 1998, and was sentenced on May 13, 1998. (Pet. 2.) The Petition and relevant state 15 court records also establish that the California Supreme Court denied his petition for 16 review on May 12, 1999, and that Petitioner never filed a petition for a writ of 17 certiorari with the United States Supreme Court. (Pet. 3.) Therefore, for purposes of 18 AEDPA's limitation period, Petitioner's judgment became final on August 10, 1999, 19 the ninetieth day after the state high court denied his petition for review and the time 20 for Petitioner to file a petition for a writ of certiorari with the Supreme Court expired.
21 Bowen v. Roe, 188 F.3d 1157, 1159 (9th Cir. 1999). The limitation period then started 22 to run the next day, August 11, 1999, and ended a year later on August 10, 2000. 28
23 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(A); see also Patterson v. Stewart, 251 F.3d 1243, 1245-47 (9th 24 Cir. 2001) (the limitations period begins to run on the day after the triggering event 25 pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(a)).

26 Petitioner missed the deadline because he did not constructively file the pending 27 Petition until July 26, 2008 -- 2,907 days (nearly eight years) after the statute expired.
28 Therefore, the pending Petition is time-barred unless Petitioner is entitled to statutory

1 or equitable tolling, or an alternate start date to AEDPA's statute of limitations period
2 under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1).

3 C. Statutory Tolling

4 AEDPA provides a statutory tolling provision that suspends the limitation 5 period for the time during which a "properly-filed" application for post-conviction or 6 other collateral review is "pending" in state court. 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(2); Bonner v.
7 Carey, 425 F.3d 1145, 1148 (9th Cir. 2005). An application is "pending" until it has 8 achieved final resolution through the state's post-conviction procedures. Carey v.
9 Saffold, 536 U.S. 214, 220, 122 S. Ct. 2134 (2002). The limitation period is not tolled 10 between the time a final decision is issued on direct state appeal and the time a state 11 collateral challenge is filed because there is no case "pending" during that interval.
12 Thorson v. Palmer, 479 F.3d 643, 646 (9th Cir. 2007); Nino v. Galaza, 183 F.3d 1003, 13 1006 (9th Cir. 1999).

14 Further, to qualify for statutory tolling during the time the petitioner is pursuing 15 collateral review in the state courts, his first state habeas petition must be 16 constructively filed before, not after, the expiration of AEDPA's one-year limitation 17 period. Ferguson v. Palmateer, 321 F.3d 820, 823 (9th Cir. 2003) ("[S]ection 2254 18 does not permit the reinitiation of the limitation period that has ended before the state 19 petition was filed"); Jiminez v. Rice, 276 F.3d 478, 482 (9th Cir. 2001) (stating that 20 filing of state petition after AEDPA's one-year time period has elapsed bars federal 21 habeas review); Webster v. Moore, 199 F.3d 1256, 1259 (11th Cir. 2000) ("A 22 state-court petition [] that is filed following the expiration of the limitations period 23 cannot toll that period because there is no period remaining to be tolled"); Green v.
24 White, 223 F.3d 1001, 1003 (9th Cir. 2001).

25 Petitioner did not file his first state habeas petition with the Los Angeles County 26 Superior Court until January 6, 2003, 879 days after the expiration of the limitation 27 period. Consequently, Petitioner is not entitled to statutory tolling for any of his state 28

1 habeas petitions because they were all filed long after the limitation period expired.<sup>3/</sup>
 2 See Moore v. Crosby, 321 F.3d 1377, 1381 (11th Cir. 2003) (a state application for 3 post-conviction relief does not revive the one-year limitation period if it has already 4 expired); see also Jimenez, 276 F.3d at 482; Webster, 199 F.3d at 1259; Green, 223
 5 F.3d at 1003. Therefore, the face of the Petition, exhibits, and state court records
 6 establish that this Petition, constructively filed on July 26, 2008, is untimely by 2,907 7 days (the amount of untolled time between the limitation deadline (08/10/00) and the 8 Petition's constructive filing date (07/26/08)).

9 D. Alternative Start of the Statute of Limitations

10 1. State-Created Impediment

11 In rare instances, AEDPA provides that its one-year limitation period shall run 12 from "the date on which the impediment to filing an application created by State action 13 in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the 14 applicant was prevented from filing by such State action." 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d)(1)(B).
 15 Asserting that the statute of limitations was delayed by a state-created impediment 16 requires a showing of a due process violation. Lott v. Mueller, 304 F.3d 918, 925 (9th 17 Cir. 2002). The face of the Petition, attached exhibits, and OSC Response do not set 18 forth any facts showing that Petitioner is entitled to relief under this provision.

19 2. Newly Recognized Constitutional Right

20 AEDPA provides that, if a claim is based upon a constitutional right that is 21 newly recognized and applied retroactively to habeas cases by the United States 22 Supreme Court, the one-year limitation period begins to run on the date which the new 23 right was initially recognized by the United States Supreme Court. 28 U.S.C. § 24 2244(d)(1)(C). The face of the Petition, attached exhibits, and OSC Response do not 25

26
 27 <sup>3/</sup> See also Dent v. The People, et al., B168285, Cal. App. Ct., 2nd Dist./Div.
 28 1 (filed Jan. 6, 2003, denied Feb. 11, 2003); Dent (Brian Keith) on H.C., No. S126208, Cal. Supreme Ct. (filed July 12, 2004, denied Aug. 24, 2005).

1 set forth any facts that show Petitioner is entitled to relief under this provision.

2 3. Discovery of Factual Predicate

3 AEDPA also provides that, in certain cases, its one-year limitation period shall 4 run from “the date on which the factual predicate of the claim or claims presented 5 could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.” 28 U.S.C. § 6 2244(d)(1)(D). The face of the Petition, exhibits, and OSC Response do not set forth 7 any facts showing that Petitioner is entitled to relief based upon a late discovery of the 8 factual predicate.

9 E. Equitable Tolling

10 As a prefatory matter, the Court observes there is no clearly established federal 11 law that expressly holds equitable tolling is available under § 2244(d)(1), and the 12 Supreme Court has recently acknowledged this point. Lawrence v. Florida, 549 U.S.
13 ---, 127 S. Ct. 1079, 1085 (2007) (“We have not decided whether § 2244(d) allows for 14 equitable tolling. [ ] Because the parties agree that equitable tolling is available, we 15 assume without deciding that it is”).

16 “Generally, a litigant seeking equitable tolling bears the burden of establishing 17 two elements: (1) that he has been pursuing his rights diligently, and (2) that some 18 extraordinary circumstance stood in his way.” Pace v. Diguglielmo, 544 U.S. 408, 19 418, 125 S. Ct. 1807 (2005). A petitioner bears the burden of alleging facts that would 20 give rise to tolling. Id.; Miranda v. Castro, 292 F.3d 1063, 1065 (9th Cir. 2002). The 21 Ninth Circuit has emphasized that determinations of “whether there are grounds for 22 equitable tolling are highly fact-dependent.” Whalem/Hunt v. Early, 233 F.3d 1146, 23 1148 (9th Cir. 2000) (en banc). “[E]quitable tolling is justified in few cases,” and “the 24 threshold necessary to trigger equitable tolling [under AEDPA] is very high, lest the 25 exceptions swallow the rule.” Spitsyn v. Moore, 345 F.3d 796, 799 (9th Cir. 2003).

26 By way of his declarations in support of his Petition and OSC Response, 27 Petitioner principally alleges he should be entitled to equitable tolling from the date 28 his judgment of conviction became final on August 10, 1999, to the present because

1 of his mental illness. (Dent Decl. in Support of Pet. (“Dent Decl. I”) ¶¶ 3-8; Dent 2 Decl. in Support of OSC Resp. (“Dent Decl. II”) 1-3.) In support of his contention, 3 Petitioner has attached various medical records from 1997 through February 1, 2008, 4 some of which indicate that he suffers from an unspecified degree of dementia, 5 hallucination, and bipolar disorder. (Dent Decl. I ¶3; Dent Decl. II 1-2; Pet. Ex. A<sup>4/</sup>; 6 OSC Resp. Ex. A.) None of the medical records, however, establish any of the alleged 7 mental disorders prevented Petitioner from filing a timely Petition. To the contrary, 8 the evidence in the record establishes it was Petitioner’s lack of diligence, not his 9 mental impairments, that kept him from filing a timely Petition.

10 The relevant medical records indicate Petitioner’s symptoms of delusion, 11 hallucination, and dementia were attributable to his long term substance use, and that 12 his symptoms gradually improved during his incarceration as a result of medications, 13 personal counseling, support programs, and the inability to readily obtain illegal drugs.
 14 Notably, in a March 30, 1998, court-ordered psychiatric evaluation to determine 15 whether Petitioner was competent to stand trial, Dr. Crandall opined that “it is difficult 16 to differentiate whether [Petitioner’s] past psychotic symptoms were due to drug use 17 or to primary mental illness.” (Pet. Ex. B at 4.) Dr. Crandall’s evaluation also found 18 that “in accordance with Dr. Vicary’s observations . . . there were various indications 19 that [Petitioner] was malingering or faking symptoms of mental illness.” (Id.) On 20 November 5, 1999, the date Petitioner contends his mental disorders initially began 21 to his prevent him from filing a timely Petition, relevant medical records show his first 22 request for a psychiatric evaluation was denied by the prison’s Chief Psychiatrist, Dr.
 23 K. Weaver. (Pet. Ex. A at 21; OSC Resp. Ex. A.) Approximately eight months later 24

25 <sup>4/</sup> Petitioner failed to designate and consecutively number each page of the 26 attached documents in the manner required by Local Rules 11-3.3 and 11.5.2.
 27 Consequently, for ease of reference, the Court has designated Petitioner’s medical 28 records as “Exhibit A” and consecutively designated any other documents thereafter with consecutive page numbers.

1 on July 17, 2000, his second request for psychiatric evaluation was again denied by 2 Dr. Weaver because “[t]here does not appear any indication from the referral that he 3 would benefit from inpatient psychiatric care as his primary problem seems to be post 4 traumatic dementia [and should benefit more from] a Developmental Disability
5 evaluation . . . for inmates with chronic physical disabilities.” (Pet. Ex. A at 22; OSC 6 Resp. Ex. A.) (emphasis added). As mentioned, other medical records indicate 7 Petitioner’s alleged mental disorders improved over time. (Pet. Exs. A, E, F-I; OSC 8 Resp. Ex. A.)

9 In the Ninth Circuit it is also well-settled that mental and physical disabilities 10 alone do not warrant equitable tolling where other evidence shows the petitioner could 11 still have filed a timely petition. See Gaston v. Palmer, 417 F.3d 1030, 1034-35 (9th 12 Cir. 2005) (petitioner was not entitled to equitable tolling based upon physical and 13 mental disabilities since he prepared and filed a state habeas petition while suffering 14 from the alleged disabilities). The exhibits attached to the Petition and relevant state 15 court records clearly establish that, since his conviction in 1998, Petitioner has been 16 able to file two state petitions for review plus three state habeas petitions during the 17 time he allegedly suffered from his purported mental disorders. (Pet. 2-6; Official 18 records of California courts.) During this same period, the record also establishes that 19 Petitioner wrote letters to his attorney, sought legal assistance from a fellow inmate 20 named Johnson, tracked down his legal and medical files, and sleuthed out any alleged 21 missing documents. (Dent Decl. I ¶3-8; Pet. Exs. B, C.) Under the circumstances, the 22 Court finds Petitioner has failed to show he is entitled to equitable tolling because his 23 alleged mental disorders kept him from filing a timely Petition. See Allen v. Lewis, 24 255 F.3d 798, 800-01 (9th Cir. 2001) (“at the very least, the prisoner must show that 25 the ‘extraordinary circumstances’ were the but-for and proximate cause of his 26 untimeliness”).

27 Moreover, Petitioner is not entitled to equitable tolling between November 5, 28 1999, and July 17, 2000, based upon his claim that he suffered from a chronic mental

1 illness during this period. (Dent Decl. I ¶ 3.) Aside from his conclusory and vague 2 contention, he is not entitled to any tolling during this period because, as discussed 3 above, there was no case “pending” during this interval. Thorson, 479 F.3d at 646; 4 Nino, 183 F.3d at 1006. Likewise, Petitioner’s contention that he required the 5 assistance of his fellow inmate to help him file his February 23, 2003, state habeas 6 petition is also unpersuasive to warrant equitable tolling because the limitations period 7 had already expired by that time. In any event, regardless of how Petitioner managed 8 to file a slew of state habeas petitions, write letters, and investigate his case, the fact 9 is he accomplished these things.

10 In sum, Petitioner has not established that anything other than his own lack of 11 diligence accounts for his failure to file a timely Petition. Further, his history of 12 perpetual, multiple filings in this Court and the state courts also establishes that his 13 alleged mental disorders did not prevent him from filing a timely Petition. Petitioner 14 has failed to show his alleged mental disabilities amounted to extraordinary 15 circumstances beyond his control, making it impossible to file a petition on time.
 16 Brambles v. Duncan, 412 F.3d 1066, 1069 (9th Cir. 2005).

17 2. Lack of Legal Training, Representation, and/or Education Claims

18 The Court also rejects Petitioner’s apparent contention that he is entitled to 19 equitable tolling because of his lack of legal training, lack of legal representation, 20 and/or general lack of education. (Pet. Mem. 8; Dent Decl. I ¶¶ 3-8; Pet. Ex. D.)
 21 Neither the lack of assistance nor ignorance of the law qualify as extraordinary 22 circumstances warranting equitable tolling. See Rasberry v. Garcia, 448 F.3d 1150, 23 1154 (9th Cir. 2006) (“a pro se petitioner’s lack of legal sophistication is not, by itself, 24 an extraordinary circumstance warranting equitable tolling” of AEDPA’s limitation 25 period); Ekenberg v. Lewis, No. C 98-1450 FMS (PR), 1999 WL 13720, *2 (N.D. Cal.
 26 Jan. 12, 1999) (“Ignorance of the law and lack of legal assistance do not constitute 27 such extraordinary circumstances.”); Bolds v. Newland, No. C 97-2103 VRW (PR), 28 1997 WL 732529, *2 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 12, 1997) (same); see also Hinton v. Pac.

1 Enter., 5 F.3d 391, 396-97 (9th Cir. 1993) (mere ignorance of the law generally is an 2 insufficient basis to equitably toll the running of an applicable statute of limitations); 3 Barrow v. New Orleans S.S. Ass'n, 932 F.2d 473, 478 (5th Cir. 1991) (neither “lack 4 of knowledge of applicable filing deadlines,” nor “unfamiliarity with the legal 5 process,” nor “lack of representation during the applicable filing period,” nor 6 “illiteracy,” provides a basis for equitable tolling); cf. Hughes v. Idaho State Bd. of 7 Corr., 800 F.2d 905, 909 (9th Cir. 1986) (holding pre-AEDPA that illiteracy of pro se 8 prisoner is insufficient to meet standard of an objective, external factor amounting to 9 “cause” for purposes of avoiding procedural bar on habeas claims).

10 Based upon the foregoing, the Court finds Petitioner is not entitled to equitable 11 tolling because he has failed to satisfy either of the Pace elements. Petitioner has 12 failed to meet his burden of showing he was reasonably diligent in pursuing federal 13 habeas relief throughout the time that AEDPA’s limitation period was running; nor has 14 he shown that he was prevented from filing a timely petition because of extraordinary 15 circumstances.

16 F. Miscarriage of Justice

17 In his OSC Response, Petitioner makes the vague and conclusory claim that, 18 “even if the Petition was time-barred, such procedural default should be excused 19 because there was a fundamental miscarriage [sic] of justice in the unauthorized 20 sentencing of an incompetent person.” (OSC Resp. 1.) To the extent Petitioner 21 suggests that his untimely Petition should still be considered because he was mentally 22 incompetent to stand trial and was improperly sentenced, the face of the Petition and 23 relevant records fall far short of making any such showing for the reasons discussed 24 above. To the contrary, the trial court found Petitioner was mentally competent to 25 stand trial based upon a court-ordered psychiatric evaluation. (Pet. Ex. B.)

26 Under the miscarriage of justice-actual innocence gateway of Schlup v. Delo, 27 513 U.S. 298, 115 S. Ct. 851 (1995), a petitioner’s procedurally barred claim may be 28 considered on the merits if his claim of actual innocence is sufficient to implicate a

1 fundamental miscarriage of justice. Majoy v. Roe, 296 F.3d 770, 775-76 (9th Cir.
2 2002). To establish a miscarriage of justice, Petitioner must proffer “evidence of 3 innocence strong enough that a court cannot have confidence in the outcome of the 4 trial unless the court is also satisfied that the trial was free of nonharmless 5 constitutional error.” Griffin v. Johnson, 350 F.3d 956, 960-61 (9th Cir. 2003); cf., 6 Bousley v. United States, 523 U.S. 614, 622, 118 S. Ct. 1604 (1998) (“Where a 7 defendant has procedurally defaulted a claim by failing to raise it on direct review, the 8 claim may be raised in habeas only if the defendant can first demonstrate either ‘cause’ 9 and actual ‘prejudice’ . . . or that he is ‘actually innocent.’”). Further, Petitioner must 10 proffer “new reliable evidence . . . that was not presented at trial.” Schlup, 513 U.S.
11 at 324. This new reliable evidence must also establish “it is more likely than not that 12 no reasonable juror would have convicted him in the light of the new evidence.” Id.
13 at 327. Here, Petitioner has failed to present any “evidence of innocence,” let alone 14 “new reliable evidence” to show that it is more likely than not that no reasonable juror 15 would have convicted him. Sistrunk v. Armenakis, 292 F.3d 669, 673, 677 (9th 16 Cir.2002); Griffin, 350 F.3d at 960-61; Schlup, 513 U.S. at 324. To the contrary, his 17 own exhibits establish his claim is frivolous.

ORDER

The Court finds the Petition must be dismissed because it is time-barred for the reasons stated above and in the Court's OSC. Further, by way of the OSC and Petitioner's OSC Response, the Court finds Petitioner has already received notice and an opportunity to show cause why the Petition should not be dismissed as time-barred.

ACCORDINGLY, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT the reference to the Magistrate Judge is vacated and the Petition is dismissed with prejudice. The Clerk is directed to enter judgment dismissing the action with prejudice. Any and all pending motions are terminated.
